FAIR UTILITY RATES AND RELIABLE SERVICE

Local families and small businesses are struggling with the COVID pandemic. At a time when we all depend on fair utility rates and reliable service, there is a proposal to put qualified professionals — not politicians — on our Regulation Commission.

Just as Governor Lujan Grisham is relying on experts in the fight against COVID, this proposal would require expert professionals to deal with the complex utility issues that will guide our state's environmental future and economic growth. Commissioners would be prohibited from having any personal financial interest in any public utility.

[See House Bill 386 for required professional qualifications of PRC Commissioners]

INDEPENDENT EXPERTS ON THE REGULATION COMMISSION
QUALIFIED PROFESSIONALS OR POLITICIANS?
